Hospital Services SAG

- The Hospital Services SAG was formed to focus on improving health information literacy and increasing the ability for hospital staff to find and use biomedical and health information for clinical care and patient education by targeting hospital librarians, and others providing biomedical and health information services in the hospital setting including nurses, patient educators, continuing medical education coordinators and others.

Advise

- Issues of concern to providing health info to hospitals
- Programs for healthcare professionals within hospital setting
- Programs to develop collaborations & partnerships within hospital & community to improve access to biomed. & health info.
- Promoting NNLM MAR funding
- Raising awareness of HL issues in healthcare org. (Healthcare professionals)

Assist in

- Keeping NNLM MAR updated on what is happening in their state, region, organization & profession
- Developing plans to encourage healthcare professionals and/or health sciences librarians to participate actively in regional and national programs related to delivery of health information
- Reviewing final selection applications for MAR awards

NNLM Partnership with the NIH All of Us Research Program

The National Network of Libraries of Medicine (NNLM) is pleased to announce a partnership with the NIH All of Us Research Program (All of Us), part of the Precision Medicine Initiative. Through this collaboration, NNLM's Regional Medical Libraries and National Offices will focus on improving consumer access to high quality health information in communities throughout the U.S., specifically, by working with public libraries. [\[press release\]](#)

This partnership is a 3-year pilot program to support All of Us. Activities in the pilot are designed to:

- Help public libraries in supporting the health information needs of their users;
- Support community engagement through public libraries for All of Us; and
- Operate the All of Us Training Center, the home for training and resources about and related to the

NLM & NNLM MAR Trainings

NLM Trainings

- The NNLM Training Office is excited to announce a new learning opportunity for bioinformatics and biology training. Bioinformatics and Biology Essentials For Librarians: Databases, Tools, and Clinical Applications is a 16-week, self-paced course worth 25 hours of continuing education credit from the Medical Library Association. The course will run January 29 – May 18, 2018.
- Moving from Data to Health Equity Action: County Health Rankings and Roadmaps

In this interactive webinar, Toni Lewis from County Health Rankings and Roadmaps will show attendees where they can find the data, evidence, guidance and examples to move their communities from data to action. Lewis will provide an introduction to helpful search strategies and practical tips, and will answer attendee questions about CHR&R. This webinar will be particularly beneficial to individuals who are considering applying for funding to support community-based library projects.
