The screenshot shows the NNLM PNR website for the Pacific Northwest Region. The top navigation bar includes the NIH NLM>NNLM logo, the text "National Network of Libraries of Medicine", and links for "REGIONS | OFFICES | HELP", a search icon, and a search input field. Below the navigation bar, there are dropdown menus for "PNR HOME", "About PNR", "Members", "Funding", "Initiatives", and "Training". A red banner at the top right contains the text "COVID-19 is an emerging, rapidly evolving situation." followed by links to "Get the latest public health information from CDC: coronavirus.gov" and "Get the latest research information from NIH: nih.gov/coronavirus". Below the banner is a large image of a forest path with the text "Become a Member - It's Free!" and a description of membership benefits. A green button labeled "Join the Network Today!" is positioned below the text. The main content area is titled "Pacific Northwest Region" and features three columns: "NIH News in Health" (APRIL 2020) with a thumbnail of a magazine cover, "CHIS Accelerated Learning Plan" with a thumbnail of three people, and "Upcoming Classes" listing two classes: "Supporting Open Science in Health Science Libraries: Sharing Strategies for Sustainability and Success" on Thursday, April 9, 2020, and "Strategies and Resources to Maintain Sobriety During COVID-19" on Friday, April 10, 2020.

Citizen Science Month - Resources for Libraries

Citizen Science Month is observed annually in April to celebrate and promote all things citizen science: amazing discoveries, incredible volunteers, hardworking practitioners, inspiring projects, and anything else citizen science-related! This global celebration includes events hosted by libraries, institutions, community groups, museums, and individuals all around the world.

NNLM All of Us Community Engagement Network

The National Library of Medicine and the NIH's All of Us Research Program (All of Us) have teamed up to build the NNLM All of Us Community Engagement Network (CEN). The CEN will focus on NNLM's mission to improve the public's access to health information and provide awareness of All of Us to communities that are Underrepresented in Biomedical Research by partnering with libraries across the United States. The CEN is designed to leverage the mission of the NNLM to help libraries in supporting the health information needs of their users. Libraries can engage with the NNLM All of Us CEN at three levels: Join Us, Work with Us, Lead with Us. Are you interested in engaging with the CEN? Find more information about our engagement opportunities here.
