

Your Community Your World Your Discovery

Explore Your Inner Scientist

Citizen Science Resources for You

Find a Citizen Science Project

Citizenscience.gov is designed to accelerate the use of crowdsourcing and citizen science across the U.S. government.

citizenscience.gov

SciStarter is a place to find, join, and contribute to science through providing access to more than 2,700 searchable formal and informal research projects and events.

scistarter.com

Federal Crowdsourcing & Citizen Science Catalog contains information about federal citizen science and crowdsourcing projects.

ccsinventory.wilsoncenter.org

Zooniverse is a platform for people-powered research.

zooniverse.org

PLOS CitizenSci blog examines the emerging phenomena of public participation in science.

blogs.plos.org/citizensci

Environmental Health Resources

Household Products Database links over 18,000 consumer brands to health effects and allows consumers to research products based on chemical ingredients.

householdproducts.nlm.nih.gov

ToxTown® is an interactive guide to common toxic substances encountered in everyday places.

toxtown.nlm.nih.gov

Environmental Health Student Portal provides a useful resource for students and teachers in grades 6–8 on how the environment can impact our health.

kidsenvirohealth.nlm.nih.gov

Kids Environmental Health is a resource for kids, parents, and teachers to find fun and educational materials related to health, science, and the environment we live in today.

kids.niehs.nih.gov

Mobile Resources

NIH Scientist Launch Game® App lets you experience the excitement of becoming a scientist, getting a research grant, and advancing science and health. Available for Android and Apple iOS.

public.csr.nih.gov/aboutcsr/NewsAndPublications/Outreach/Pages/rocketapp.aspx

HerbList App gives you fast, free access to science-based summaries on more than 50 popular herbs. Available for Android and Apple iOS.

nccih.nih.gov/Health/HerbListApp iNaturalist is a nature app that helps you identify the plants and animals around you. The app is available in both English and Spanish. Available for Android and Apple iOS.

inaturalist.org

Solve the Outbreak is a fascinating peek into the work that real-life Disease Detectives do every day to keep us safe. Available for Android and Apple iOS.

cdc.gov/mobile/applications/sto/