

10th Annual University of Massachusetts and New England Area Librarian e-Science Symposium Thursday, APRIL 5th, 2018 at the University of Massachusetts, Worcester, MA.

8:30AM – 3:30PM

Featuring: Libraries in Data Science: Past and Future

Registration, Continental Breakfast and Networking Opportunity Poster Session in Medical School Lobby

Welcome Morning Keynote Presentation: Overview of Data Services

Micaela Parker, PhD, Executive Director of the eScience Institute

Breakout Sessions

- Data Repositories:
Jomol Mathew, PhD, Associate CIO & Head of Data Science and Technology, University of Massachusetts Medical School
- Data Visualization:
Tony Nguyen, MLIS, AHIP, Technology & Communications
Coordinator, National Network of Libraries of Medicine (NNLM), Southeastern/Atlantic Region (SEA), University of Maryland,
Baltimore
- Data Outreach:
Harrison Dekker, MLIS, Associate Professor Data Services
Librarian, University of Rhode Island
- Data Rescue:
Margaret M Janz, MLIS, Scholarly Communications and Data Curation Librarian, University of Pennsylvania

Breakout Session 2

Lunch

Panel

- Moderator: Regina Raboin, MLIS, Associate Director Lamar
Souter Library, University of Massachusetts Medical School
- Jake Carlson, MA, MLIS, Director of Research Data Services
(Interim) University of Michigan Library
- Scott Matheson, JD, MLIS, MPA, Associate Law Librarian
for Technical Services at Yale's Lillian Goldman Law Library.
He has served on the Depository Library Council and worked on Data Rescue events and the PEGI project.
- Matt Burton, PhD Assistant Professor at the School of Computing and Information, University of Pittsburg

Wrap up, Closing Remarks and Evaluations